1. See the statutes for the difference between a special membership and a normal membership. In short, if you do not want to enter a student number but want to be a member of Kinjin, you have to apply for special membership.
2. Our official communication is via e-mail. If you do not want to provide an email address, but you want to be a member, you'll need to discuss it with the current board.
3. Internal publication concerns distribution amongst (former)Kinjin members, for example via WhatsApp, internal Facebook group and similar platforms. External publication means that the footage may be used on the Kinjin website, as well as flyers and other promotional purposes.
4. If the member does not wish to agree to this, this row should be clearly crossed out. The member has the right to authorize the publication of his/her imagery for each publication (internally and/or externally).
